National and International Commemorative Days, Events, and Festivals at Princeton College of Pharmacy

Princeton College of Pharmacy takes great pride in celebrating and organizing various national and international commemorative days, events, and festivals to promote cultural diversity, unity, and social responsibility within the college community. These celebrations provide students, faculty, and staff with opportunities to reflect on important historical events, honour significant achievements, and embrace global cultures and values.

National Celebrations:

The institution observes major national days such as Independence Day (15th August), Republic Day (26th January), and Gandhi Jayanti (2nd October) with flag hoisting ceremonies, cultural performances, and discussions on national values. These events emphasize the importance of patriotism, freedom, and unity in diversity. Students actively participate in essay writing competitions, debates, and poster-making activities related to the significance of these days, reinforcing a sense of civic responsibility and national pride.

International Days:

Princeton College of Pharmacy also recognizes various international commemorative days like World Health Day, World Environment Day, International Women's Day, and World Pharmacists Day. Through seminars, workshops, and awareness campaigns, the institution fosters global awareness and encourages its community to act on critical global issues. These events promote knowledge-sharing, social activism, and a broader understanding of issues that transcend national boundaries.

Cultural and Religious Festivals:

The college celebrates a wide range of cultural and religious festivals such as Ganesh Chaturthi, Diwali, Sankranti, Christmas, Eid, Navratri, and Holi, among others. These festivals provide a platform for students and staff from diverse backgrounds to showcase their traditions, arts, and cuisines, fostering inclusivity and cultural harmony. Such celebrations encourage mutual respect and understanding, allowing the college to embrace the richness of multiple cultures.

Academic and Professional Celebrations:

The institution also celebrates academic milestones and professional observances like World Pharmacist Day, National Science Day, and Teacher's Day. These events honour the contributions of professionals and academics, while encouraging students to engage in
